

ELABORAREA DREPTULUI CU PRIVIRE SPECIALĂ ASUPRA LEGISTICII FORMALE

Ion FLĂMÂNZEANU*

Abstract :The issue related by the elaboration of the law, the elaboration of the normative acts, legislative science as it is called in this domain, was approached, unfortunately, very little within the juridical literature although it is and it will be, in the future, a wide open gate toward a research field, with an exceptional utility.

For that reason a wide and all-inclusive research of the variety of these domains of action, of understanding, interpretation, communication, application and solving the problems regarding the elaboration of law, and also the formal logistics, constitutes a challenge both for the present and for the future.

Elaborating the law is realized by respecting certain proceedings and methods and also certain principles that must respond precisely to the requirements of a concise, clearly, coherent scientific regulation.

Keywords: normative acts, formal logistics, natural law, legislative science, juridical methodology.
